COMMUNITY PROJECTS

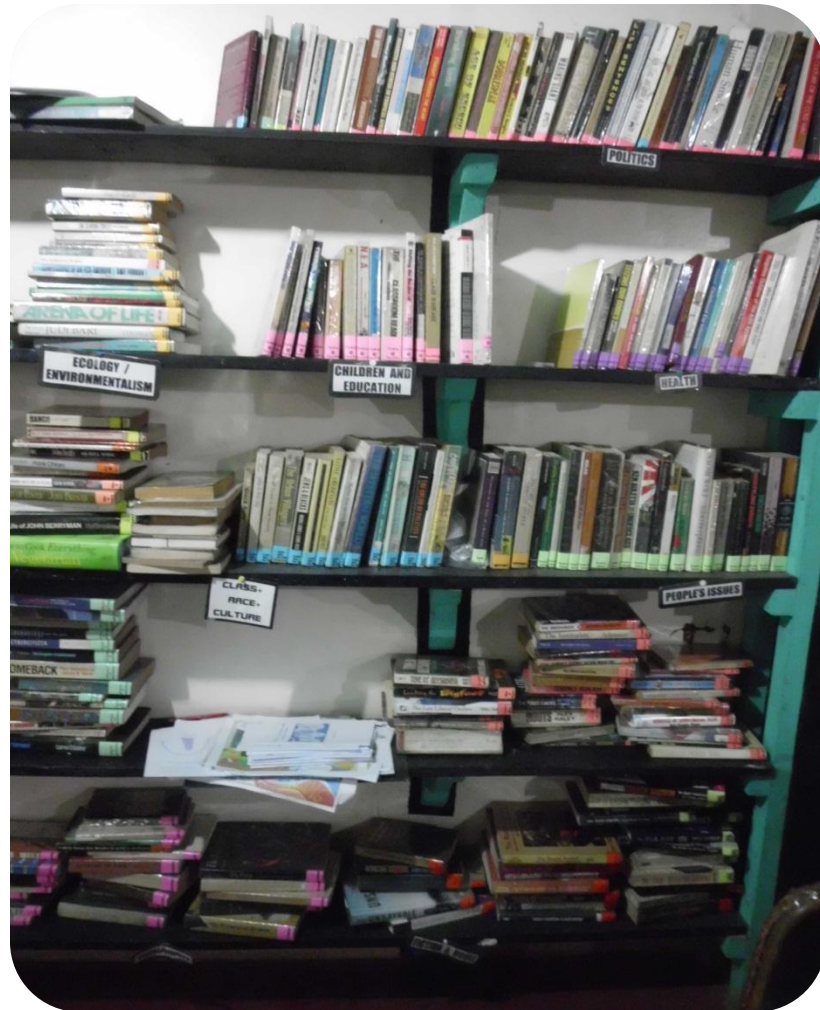

WHAT IS ORGANIC MINDS COLLECTIVE?

a collective aiming to establish a community of artists, poets, writers, gardeners, carpenters, natural health advocates and other creative individuals aspiring to build a sustainable social paradigm through conscious living. By initiating projects in different parts of Mindanao, we seek to promote alternative and free education, organic gardening, autonomous thinking, natural health, and ecologically conscious art and music through anti-authoritarian and non-hierarchical approaches. Our issues of concern are around agriculture, health, mass media, corporate oppression, ecological destruction, poverty, ignorance, racism, sexism, mental health and more...

COMMUNITY SPACE AND LIBRARY

It is a collection of diverse books and videos that are relevant to those who are seeking for social change and intellectual growth (individual or collective). With various subjects such as history, ecology, socio-politics, health, philosophy, spirituality, psychology, gender, arts and culture and other important aspects of human society, the library is open to people of all ages searching for these kinds of information. It is one of the few libraries in the city that provide access to information concerning community, food politics, and well-being in general. The library aims not only to provide options through facilitating space for readership and discourse but also to use the space to help initiate actions and alternatives necessary and appropriate to any undesirable situations in the individual or in the community level.

WORKSHOPS AND DISCUSSIONS

BREAD HOMES SHARING GARDEN

a volunteer-run community gardening project open to people of all ages which aims to practice and promote organic model of producing food and medicine. It also aims to educate and inspire others while building a community based on mutual cooperation, non-hierarchical relation, caring, and empathy that will uphold the principle of sharing not only food and resources but also skills, knowledge, and other important things in life.

BROKEN PATTERN PRESS

This project was created to establish communication channel for different issues and ideas and publicize them. It is an alternative media born out of Do-It-Yourself principle aiming to counter the mainstream propaganda and other conditioning method supporting corporate interests and political oppression. BPP distribute zines, pamphlets, documentary videos, posters, and other media for empowerment and actions. We publish compilations of writings and other forms of expression from different authors, local and abroad. Through this grassroots and direct approach, people will be informed without any interventions or regulations from any institutions and also without agenda for commercial goal, political deception, and profit interest.

BOOKLET DISTRIBUTION

FOOD FREEDOM

A mass awareness campaign about the issues of food, health, and agriculture.

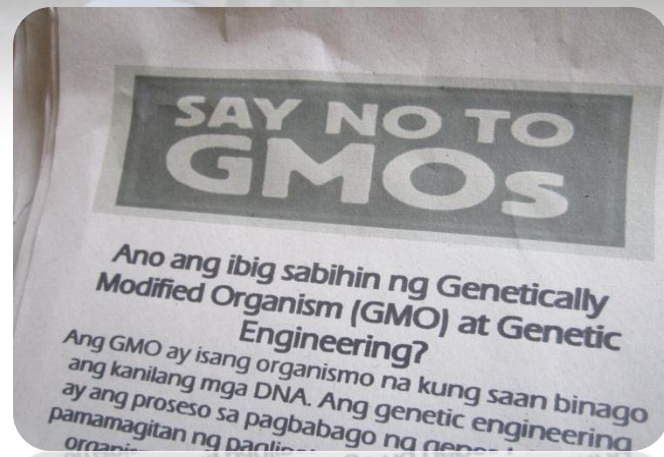

Some significant examples of these issues are GMO (Genetically Modified Organism), Pesticides, monosodium glutamate (MSG), Aspartame (magic sugar), Fluoride, and other unsafe additives that are very dangerous to humans and environment. It aims to connect to different groups or individuals to establish a network that will help spread these info and to publish news and facts about these harmful chemicals.

FOOD FREEDOM

ORGANIC MINDS Free SCHOOL PROJECT

a weekly gathering happening inside and outside the community library together with individuals of all ages interested in different important topics and contemporary social issues. Through this approach, we seek to empower individuals and communities outside the realms of commercial and political institutions and interests to develop each other's capacity in re-creating communities. This would also promote alternatives and options to the current economic, cultural, ecological, and political paradigm that produce endless crises in our modern lives.

"We should indeed reclaim our lives and build global connection to different people and culture. Many people in the world are increasingly waking up; the action against destruction is happening everyday in many different parts of the world. We are all responsible now and we need to help and educate each other; we need to listen to each other for us to understand our different voices so that we can learn from each other and live in positive diversity and celebrate our preferred life."

THANK YOU VERY MUCH!
